

Where is land used (how intensively) – and where are the products consumed?

In blue areas ecosystems supply more than humans living there consume.

In yellow-red areas humans consume more than the ecosystems supply.

Both measured as „embodied human appropriation of net primary production“ (eHANPP)

Toward quantification of trade-related telecouplings. E.g. direction and magnitude of eHANPP flows to and from the EU-27

