

Kiflu Molla is a Senior Researcher at the Policy Studies Institute (PSI). His main areas of research include international trade, international macroeconomics, and taxation. Currently he works on a project that focuses on building pathways towards sustainable land-use and food systems in Ethiopia, under the Food, Agriculture, Biodiversity, Land-Use, and Energy (FABLE) consortium. Kiflu is coordinator of the Trade Policy Research Center (TPRC) at PSI, and holds a PhD in Economics from Stockholm University.