

SHORT CURRICULUM VITAE

Dr. Viktor J. Bruckman M.Sc., B.Sc.

01/2020

Summary CV

Viktor Johannes Bruckman holds a Ph.D. in forest sciences (summa cum laude) at the University of Natural Resources and Life Sciences, Vienna, Austria, where he graduated 2012 (Dissertation title: “Carbon in Quercus forest ecosystems – Management and environmental considerations”). He holds the positions NMO Secretary of the Austrian IASA Committee and Administrative Assistant for the Commission of Interdisciplinary Ecological Studies at the Austrian Academy of Sciences (OeAW). Since 2017, he is lecturer at the University of Natural Resources and Life Sciences (BOKU), Vienna. Dr. Bruckman is involved in several national and international projects as principal researcher and research partner. He served as guest Professor at the University of Tokyo, Graduate School of Frontier Sciences, in 2015. He is president-elect of the division “Energy, Resources and the Environment (ERE)” of the European Geosciences Union (EGU) and founding chair of the Task Force “Forest Biomass Network” of the International Union of Forest Research Organizations (IUFRO). His research focuses on carbon in forest ecosystems, biochar, and sustainable forest management, with a focus of international activities in Southeast Asia and in boreal forests. He is author of more than 30 scientific papers, book chapters and reports and editor of “Biochar”, published at Cambridge University Press.